Situation Update

Humanitarian and Food Security situation

- According to the 2022 Syria Humanitarian Need Overview \(HNO\), released on 22 February, 14.6 million people inside Syria are in need of humanitarian assistance in 2022, an increase of 1.2 million (9 percent) from 2021.
- The food security situation has steadily worsened over the past four years across Syria, 12 million people, 55 percent of the total population of the country<sup>1</sup>, are facing acute food insecurity and 1.9 million people are at risk of sliding into food insecurity, according to the results of the nationwide Food Security and Livelihoods assessment conducted by WFP and the Whole-of-Syria Food Security Sector in late 2021<sup>1</sup>. While the food insecurity figures have slightly declined by 4 percent since last year's record increase, the number of food-insecure people remains extremely high and 51 percent higher than 2019 levels preceding the financial crisis and the COVID-19 outbreak.

- The acute food insecure figure includes 1.9 million people residing in camp settings who are considered fully dependent on humanitarian assistance.
- The assessment data found that returnees are by far the most affected by the deteriorating food security situation, with a higher prevalence of food insecurity found among assessed returnees, followed by internally displaced people (IDPs).

Economic situation

- In February, the monthly average price of WFP's standard reference food basket increased by two percent compared to January 2022, according to the latest WFP Syria Market Price Watch Bulletin. In February, the nationwide average reference food basket price reached SYP 231,004 (USD 92.4 at the official exchange rate of SYP 2,500/USD), marking a new record high for the sixth consecutive month since WFP started price monitoring in 2013.
- As the implications of the Ukraine crisis materialize, the cost of food commodities and fuel are increasing, affecting food assistance and public markets.

North-Western Syria

- In February, WFP completed its emergency response to the severe winter weather conditions, which impacted tens of thousands of internally displaced people (IDPs) across north-western Syria. WFP reached more than 296,000 people with ready-to-eat rations since the emergency response started in December 2021.
- The Camp Coordination and Camp Management (CCCM) cluster recorded more than 9,000 displacements in north-western Syria in February, with departures principally occurring from Dana, Ariha and A'rima sub-districts. The main locations where displaced people arrived included Dana, Maaret Tamsrin and Ariha sub-districts. The top three needs reported for newly displaced persons were food security and livelihood, winterization assistance, and shelter.

North-Eastern Syria

- Most of the 45,000 originally displaced following the Islamic State of Iraq and the Levant (ISIL) militants' attack on Ghweiran prison in southern Al-Hasakeh city in January returned to their homes. As part of the emergency response, WFP provided emergency food assistance to newly displaced families during the initial days of displacement, reaching some 12,800 people. WFP also provided general food baskets to IDP returnees in Ghweiran neighbourhood reaching 37,400 people in February.

- In February, WFP dispatched GFA sufficient for some 5.3 million people across all 14 Syrian governorates.
- Due to insecurity and delays in receiving necessary approvals from Al-Hasakeh Governor's office, WFP was not able to complete the February dispatch plan for north-eastern Syria. Thus, the February cycle was extended into March to reach all beneficiaries.
- Cross-border deliveries from Turkey accounted for 27 percent of the total WFP general food assistance dispatched. This includes food rations for some 1.4 million people in areas of Idlib and Aleppo governorate inaccessible from inside Syria.

Livelihoods, Resilience and Social Safety Nets

- WFP reached some 5,000 people under its livelihoods, resilience, and social safety-nets-projects by providing kitchen gardens, food processing units, and thyme cultivation assistance across many governorates in Syria.

School Feeding Programme

- The fresh meals programme reached 31,500 children in Aleppo in February 2021.

Nutrition Programme

- WFP dispatched nutrition products for the prevention of acute malnutrition and micronutrient deficiencies for 237,300 children (6-23 months old) and Pregnant and Lactating Women and Girls (PLWG). This includes some 67,000 PLWG who received CBT to purchase fresh food from WFP-contracted shops.
